ABOUT US!

Shodh is a research paper presentation competition organised by the Department of BAF and BBI. It provides the students with an opportunity to expand their quest for knowledge towards a vast horizon of understanding and wisdom. In addition to providing them with knowledge about the research process, it also enables students to develop their writing abilities for a research paper with appropriate direction from their mentors. Each student is required to choose a particular theme from a list of themes and is expected to gather primary data and analyse it using the many statistical tools at their disposal, and present a variety of facts about the theme using their original ideas.

This competition's unique selling point is that a guidance lecture will be delivered and students' queries about their research paper will be answered.
